LS2 Annual Meeting 2014 Lausanne

February 4-5, 2014
Amphimax, University of Lausanne

The LS² Annual Meeting 2014 Lausanne is the biggest national event dedicated to broad-topic in life sciences.

This meeting is held every year either in Lausanne or in Zurich, welcoming more than 400 scientists (Bachelor/Master/PhD students, postdoctoral fellows and Professors).

In order to ensure a top-quality conference, LS² is recruiting volunteers to help us organize on site, in Lausanne.

What does it mean?

Being a volunteer means to participate in the conference organization, free of charge. Your duty will be to assist chairpersons to ensure a good organisation of their sessions by helping at IT-support, holding microphones, welcoming guest-speakers, welcoming the audience,...

You will be a full member of the LS² staff organisation, have access to all scientific sessions during your free time and have access to lunch and aperitif buffets.

Why would this be interesting ?

To be part of the LS² organisation will offer you :

- a great opportunity to attend to a large, national, broad-topic scientific conference,
- a chance to meet other scientists and to create your own network,
- a first experience in the world of conference organization.

What do you have to do ?

Being a volunteer, you will have to :

- Follow a 1-hour training on Monday 3 February 2014 at UNIL, from 16h to 17h (mandatory)
- And be available on-site on Tuesday 4 February 2014 from 8h to 20h.
- And/or be available on-site on Wednesday 5 February 2014 from 8h30 to 18h30.
